

HATTERAS HAMMOCKS, COME ON DOWN!

Game-show giant adds beautiful, bountiful curves to its prize arsenal

Iconic American game-show The Price Is Right has added the Hatteras Hammocks All-Weather Wicker Roman Arc as the central piece to one of its recurring luxury prize packages.

Crafted of weather-tough, brown-toned synthetic wicker atop a powder-coated steel frame, and fitted with stainless-steel hardware, this sleek new stand is intricately woven and built for a long life of leisure in the great outdoors. Patterned after Hatteras Hammocks' original and widely copied Roman Arc Cypress Hammock Stand, the All-Weather Wicker Roman Arc has a suggested retail price of $499.99.

The lavish main curve of Hatteras Hammocks' Roman Arc designs is reminiscent of classic European architecture, as its name suggests, but even more of the body of some by-gone sailing ship. It's the perfect eye-catching complement to any large or deluxe Hatteras Hammock – and a guaranteed recipe for serious neighbor envy.

The All-Weather Wicker Roman Arc spans 15 feet in length, and can support up to 450 pounds.

The HammockSource has been a staple in the Price Is Right prize stable for years, with relaxation packages spotlighting not only Hatteras Hammocks, but other trendsetting brands such as Hatteras Outdoors, a high-end furniture line of the exotic hardwood cumaru and tightly woven Dura-Cord rope, and The Original Pawleys Island Rope Hammock, the brand that set the standard for the classic American rope hammock in 1898, and continues little changed to this day.
