

Expanding on excellence: The Hatteras Hammocks All-Weather Wicker Roman Arc

If imitation is truly the highest form of flattery, then the Hatteras Hammocks Roman Arc II® hammock stand should feel pretty darn good about itself. It's been copied time and time again.

At Hatteras Hammocks, we'll leave the copying to others – innovation is at the heart of what we do. So using our original show-stopping design as a springboard to develop even further, we now bring you the Hatteras Hammocks All-Weather Wicker Roman Arc®, a whole new take on stylish durability. Crafted of weather-tough, brown-toned synthetic wicker atop a powder-coated steel frame, and fitted with stainless-steel hardware, this sleek new stand is intricately woven and built for a long life of leisure in the great outdoors.

The lavish curves of our Roman Arc designs indeed recall the Roman archways of their name, but with the grand sweep of classic Turkish architecture. Even more, the central arch is reminiscent of the body of some bygone sailing ship – which makes perfect sense. The gentle sway this stand produces can lull you into a state of calm, like steadily lapping water.

The All-Weather Wicker Roman Arc spans 15 feet in length, and can support up to 450 pounds. It's the perfect eye-catching complement to any large or deluxe Hatteras Hammock – and a guaranteed recipe for serious neighbor envy.
