

Relaxation amplification: New double swing is extra-wide

Big as it gets, and comfy as it comes!

Spanning 60 inches wide, the new Hatteras Hammocks® Deluxe Cushioned Double Swing surpasses being merely ample – this is pure relaxation abundance!

Our luxuriously decadent swing's extra-wide cushions (the seat itself is a full 51 inches across) are positively plump with polyester fiberfill batting. The plush, pillowy contours are lockstitched from two layers of DuraCord® fabric, our own solution-dyed all-weather synthetic, cottony-soft, and resistant to staining, rot, mold and mildew.

Solution-dyed means the color goes into the DuraCord thread fiber even as it's being made, and is effectively sealed inside. Not surprisingly, DuraCord is the most fade-resistant outdoor fabric made today.

Like the swing frame itself, the swing's sumptuously curved steam-bent white-oak arms have been repeatedly hand-dipped in honey-gold marine-grade varnish, for handsome looks and lengthy outdoor life.

Suspension cables – vinyl-coated steel, with steel-reinforced loops – replace the chain assemblies used on previous Hatteras Hammocks double-swing models, adding a distinctly modern, artful flourish.

Stretching a full 2 inches wider than our previous double swings, our new Deluxe Cushioned Double Swings require an extra-wide hanging support as well, of course. Our completely redesigned Steel Double Swing Stand (see stand detail, reverse of this page), also new this year, stretches 86½ inches wide.

The new stand pairs sleek good looks and contemporary curves with Hatteras Hammocks' industry-setting standards for strength and stability. Poles are 2 inch 12-gauge steel, the industry's heaviest. Spring-pin attachments yield greater stand stability even while offering no-tools ease of assembly. All poles also receive our lightly textured, taupe-colored Cape Shield® Powder Coat, among the heaviest, most environmentally friendly industrial coatings available. Hard-polymer caps for pole-ends provide even further rust protection.

Manufacturer's suggested retail price for all five styles of the Hatteras Hammocks Deluxe Cushioned Double Swing is $299.99; MSRP for the Steel Double Swing Stand, sold separately, is also $299.99.
